

HINTS FOR THE HOME

A New Point Of View

(NAPSA)—Residential buildings with enormous windows and unstructured space are popping up all over the country. New building materials and revolutionary technology allow for entire walls of glass and large open plans to feed the craving for space and light. It has also created a need to find privacy.

Always the innovator, window fashions leader Hunter Douglas has responded with Skyline™ Gliding Window Panels, designed with a dramatically sleek, seamless look that works in any décor, from modern to traditional. A contemporary way to control light, glare, view and privacy, and even divide a space, the bold panels are available in an array of fabrics. They also add drama to an environment.

What's more, Skyline Gliding Window Panels feature a patented hardware system that allows for an infinite number of panels to be attached to one slim headrail.
