A Safety-Oriented Design = A Loyal Following

(NAPS)—It's no accident that its safety oriented design and classic styling has earned a loyal following for the Mercury Grand Marquis. Motorists report that this 2001 model offers a smooth, powerful ride, while giving full-size comfort with a balance of luxury features and real-world value. Experts say it is the only car in its class to offer power adjustable accelerator and brake pedals and is rated largest trunk space and interior volume in its full-size class. In addition to its impressive list of standard equipment, the 2001 Grand Marquis will offer five-passenger seating on its LSE model. Proven safety evidenced by its unique new Personal Safety System should keep this model thriving for many years.
