Book Weds Laughs With Life

(NAPS)—In The Wedding Party (MIRA Books, $5.99), the light-hearted new novel from award-winning author Robyn Carr, a sudden marriage announcement sparks tumultuous repercussions.

A new book casts a humorous glance at a reluctant bride's wedding day.

Charlene Dugan learned the error of her ways when she married young. Now, 25 years later, she finds herself agreeing to a hastily made marriage decision that sets off a series of comical yet unfortunate events. As a result, Charlene's seemingly perfect life begins to unravel at the seams.

First her daughter Stephanie's seemingly blissful relationship with her boyfriend crumbles. Then Charlene finds herself spending more time with her ex-husband, Jake, than with her fiancé, Dennis. To further heighten the confusion, Dennis doesn't seem to mind the role of the neglected fiancé. In fact, he continues to keep appointments with the wedding consultant—in Charlene's absence.

The Wedding Party is available wherever paperbacks are sold or at www.mirabooks.com.
