Camping Tops List Of Vacation Bargains

(NAPS)—Roughing it rules! A recognized travel authority has named a well-known campground franchise the top vacation bargain.

A recent issue of Arthur Frommer's Budget Travel lists the 40 best bargain vacations. Number one on the list is a stay at one of the several hundred KOA Campgrounds in the Sunbelt that runs from Florida to southern California.

Many experts claim camping vacations lead the list of travel bargains.

According to the article, Americans with or without camping equipment can enjoy a relatively inexpensive outdoor vacation by visiting the sunnier outposts of KOA's 496-property chain.

The author illustrated this point by showing that a stay at a typical KOA in Mt. Pleasant, Texas costs less than $21 a night for a full-hookup RV site, $15 for a tent spot, or $27 for accommodations for two in a Kamping Kabin capable of sleeping four to six.
