Customized Cards

(NAPSA)—If you're like many Americans, you're looking for ways to put your personal stamp on holiday cards and stationery—and with good reason.

Customized holiday cards can help make your season's greetings stand out from the rest and add sentimental value to the messages you send.

Personalized holiday cards can be simple to design and order.

Plus, it can be easy to find beautiful and customized holiday greetings. For instance, Tiny Prints.com works with exclusive, well-known designers to offer hundreds of affordable options in a variety of formats such as flat and fold-over cards, along with square and tea-length cards.

It also lets you choose eco-friendly paper and company representatives review and edit every order before it goes to print—without sacrificing turnaround time. The site can be a quick way to order holiday cards during what is often a time-crunched season.
