

Good Reads

Dreamers And Dragons

(NAPSA)—Fantasy and science fiction fans don't need to rely on magic wishes anymore. The eagerly awaited latest edition of a delightful collection is available again.

The 33rd volume of "L. Ron Hubbard Presents Writers of the Future" features the work of the 24 award-winning new authors and illustrators and two published finalists. Jake Marley, a writer from California, and Michael Michera, an illustrator from Poland, were Grand Prize Winners of "Dreamers and Dragons," at the 33rd Annual L. Ron Hubbard Achievement Awards for Writers and Illustrators of the Future Contests in Science Fiction and Fantasy.

An enjoyable anthology brings out new worlds of fantasy and science fiction every year.

Edited by David Farland, with cover artwork by Larry Elmore, the book also features stories by such renowned writers as Anne McCaffrey, Robert J. Sawyer, Todd McCaffrey and L. Ron Hubbard and non-fiction essays by Larry Elmore and Bob Eggleton.

L. Ron Hubbard, author of the novel "Battlefield Earth", created the Writers of the Future Contest in 1983 to provide a means for aspiring writers of speculative fiction to get that much-needed break. Due to the success of the writing contest, the Illustrators of the Future Contest was created in 1988.

The new anthology is available from Amazon.com, BN.com, booksamillion.com, in Barnes & Noble stores, Books A Million and GalaxyPress.com

Learn More

For further facts about the book or the contest, go to www.writersofthefuture.com and www.galaxypress.com. On Twitter, it's @RealWOTF.