Furniture Shopping Made Easier

(NAPS)—There's no place like home and one way to make your home an even lovelier place to host parties or relax in is to redecorate with some fine new furniture.

Fortunately, you can save time and money by starting your furniture shopping before you leave home.

On the Internet there are many places to shop for furniture, but most want to sell you something and have a vested interest in what you see. A good alternative: a pure directory site called FurnitureFan.com. It shows everything that stores and manufacturers have to offer.

This Web site displays what's available for you to buy locally. By asking for your zip code, FurnitureFan is able to show products you can purchase at your local stores and then direct you there, sometimes making you aware of specials and discounts along the way.

This site is always looking for ways to enhance your shopping experience through such features as:

- The Complete Catalog: a listing of furniture by category.
- Find A Store: click on the Find a Store link from any page on the site to locate a participating store near you. Search by store name, zip code, city or manufacturer.

Save time and money: Instead of driving from store to store, "pre-shop" neighborhood furniture stores on your home computer.

- Find Manufacturers: to view Manufacturer/Distributor product lines via their Gallery. Locate stores in the area that carry the product you are looking for.

There's also a convenient place on this site that's all yours. Your Wish List is a place to store the things you'd like to buy now or sometime in the future. As you accumulate items you like, you can then do more research on those items.

It's also a way to tell others what you like. You can send your Wish List via e-mail to friends and family members who have you on their shopping list!
