Get Ready To Get Airborne

(NAPSA)—The largest airdrop in history could take place in your living room—the largest airdrop in game history, that is.

In a new game, “Medal of Honor Airborne™,” the latest installment in the Medal of Honor™ series, gamers can jump into the largest Allied Airborne Operations of WWII and become the hero who suppresses the Axis powers throughout Europe. Using an innovative approach to first-person shooter gaming, every level starts with the player’s ability to airdrop into combat from a C-47 airplane and choose where he or she lands on the battlefield. The first step is everything and the player’s landing spot can change the course of battle. Conflict on the ground offers strategic choice in vertical, open battle spaces with a wealth of attack routes.

Having the ability to land anywhere on the game’s battlefield dramatically changes the course of the battle in a popular game.

The “Medal of Honor Airborne” development team ensures that the ideals and integrity of the prestigious Congressional Medal of Honor are accurately reflected in the game. The game is available for Xbox 360, PLAYSTATION 3 and PC.
