

Grow your landscaping business

(NAPSA)—If you're a landscaper, you're probably up to your elbows in mulch right now. Give your business as much TLC as you give your customers' lawns. Keep your business growing and protect your vehicles with commercial auto insurance. The pickup truck that hauls your shrubs and tools is a business vehicle and isn't properly covered by your personal auto insurance policy. Before you mow another lawn, contact an independent insurance agent at www.progressiveagent.com to get the right policy for your business. Learn more about commercial auto insurance at www.progressivecommercial.com.