

HAUNTINGLY GOOD HALLOWEEN FUN

Easy Tricks For Halloween Treats

(NAPSA)—Finding fun family activities for Halloween doesn't have to be frightening.

VeryBestKids.com, Nestlé's award-winning Web site, is a one-stop resource for parents this Halloween and throughout the year, providing creative ideas and fun activities for parents to enjoy with their kids.

Beginning Sept. 30, parents can find the following "spooky" activities, as well as other unique Halloween ideas. Each activity features easy-to-follow, in-depth descriptions ranging from "simple but creative" to "totally aspirational."

VeryBestKids.com suggests trying these unique projects to spook up your Halloween:

- Black Cat Candy Caddy.

An empty canister can be a "purrfect" candy caddy for your little trick-or-treater. You can make it with pieces of felt, pipe cleaners and some grey and black feather boas. Your kids will love filling this adorable cat candy caddy with Halloween treats. It's also a great stay-at-home container for handing out Halloween candy.

- Tiny Treat Holders. These cute little treat holders could be the perfect decoration for your child's next Halloween party. It's easy to make with construction paper, ribbon and pipe cleaner. These spooky decorations are just the right size for Halloween place cards or party favors.

- Strawberry Meringue Ghosts. These little pink ghosts will add a tasty treat to your Hal-
