Holiday Gifts At Your Bidding

(NAPSA)—One gift many shoppers would bid for is an easier way to buy holiday gifts.

As it turns out, bidding at an online auction site can be an easy way to find great gifts this year at a great price—and do a good turn at the same time.

For example, when you find a gift at BiddingForGood.com, you can also give to a worthy charity or cause. This year the site will again feature a celebrity auction—where film and fashion stars decorate their UGG Boots for an auction to benefit St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital.

You can find thousands of deals on gifts at this site—from a Cuisinart Popcorn Maker to diamond earrings to tickets to ball games—all benefitting hundreds of charities promoting causes from disease research to education to the environment.

Shoppers can easily search by hot auction items, charity or geography to find deals on gifts and maybe even a treat for themselves.
