Hot Winter Games

(NAPSA)—If the colder weather has kept your kids cooped up indoors, try beating the chill—and boredom—with the season's hottest games.

The season's hottest games warm kids' spirits and minds.

- The Trivia II-Harry Potter Chamber of Secrets Game has been called the ultimate test of Harry Potter knowledge. Players move up and down the field by answering questions correctly. Once the Golden Snitch question has been answered, the game ends and the scores are tallied.

- Parents can also find the Harry Potter Trading Card Game: Chamber of Secrets. The cards introduce "Spells," "Item" and "Character" cards based on elements found in the second story.

- The Whomping Willow Game brings Harry and Ron's thrilling adventures with the spirited Willow tree to life. Players are challenged to traverse the Willow tree, while avoiding its "whomping" branches.

- In Scooby-Doo Clue, the cowardly canine and his mystery-solving pals transform the classic mystery board game "Clue" for hours of fun.

- The Friends Trivia Game is based on the popular comedy television show. Teenage and adult players can test their knowledge of their favorite Friends.
