Improving On A Miracle

(NAPSA)—Every birth can be considered a miracle but for those whose parenting journey has been more challenging, a baby can seem even more miraculous. A new contest celebrates the resolve shown by the thousands of women who take fertility drugs.

Every year thousands of women take fertility drugs to become mothers.

If you're a mom who has given birth using Ferring Pharmaceuticals' infertility products, you can enter the "My Little Miracle" Essay Contest to win a $10,000 education fund or one of 11 other prizes to support your child's future.

The contest is open to women who were successfully treated with Bravelle[®] (urofollitropin for injection, purified), Repronex[®] (menotropins for injection, USP) or both. To enter, write a brief essay about your experience and submit by August 30, 2005. For details, visit www.ferringfertility.com, www.ferringusa.com or call (203) 762-8833.

Bravelle[®] and Repronex[®], like all gonadotropins, are potent substances capable of causing mild to severe adverse reactions in women undergoing therapy for infertility. Only physicians thoroughly familiar with infertility treatment should prescribe these medications.
