

An American Dream Ignited In The Heart Of Wyoming

(NAPSA)—Living in today's fast-paced society of cell phones, grid-lock and smog can feel more like the American Nightmare than the American Dream. That is, unless you own your own ranch getaway.

Many are realizing their dreams by acquiring affordable, 40 to 80-acre ranches in an area known as Pine Ridge Ranch in the heart of southeastern Wyoming.

In addition to the area's natural beauty, Wyoming offers low property taxes and no state income tax which have made these homestead sites very attractive.

Pine Ridge Ranch is offering approximately 175 individual homesteads with prices starting at just $695 per acre. This prime ranch property is just minutes from historic Ft. Laramie, the last trading post and safe haven for travelers during the great western migration over the Oregon Trail. It is located approximately 115 miles from Cheyenne, 130 miles from Casper, and 210 miles from Denver, Colorado.

Naturally, this is an ideal area for those interested in the area's abundant wildlife and making nature their closest neighbor. Pine Ridge Ranch encompasses the best of Wyoming and is in an area where land values are sure to appreciate.
