

Lighting The Way To A Brighter Season

(NAPSA)—Scented candles can instantly redecorate any home for just pennies a day and, by using candles to redecorate your home with scent, they can also make the mood merrier. Of our five senses, our keenest sense is our sense of smell, and nothing creates a holiday mood more quickly than the nostalgic scent of pine or cinnamon.

“Each year when I design the Perfect Christmas Collection, I always think of the magic of being a child, of opening presents, of walking into friends’ homes and seeing the wreaths, the trees, the decorations and how special it all was—it’s a movie—like a wonderful life—magical and nostalgic,” says Harry Slatkin, president of Slatkin & Co. and creator of home fragrance collections for Bath and Body Works.

Harry has worked hard to re-create the holiday magic that he remembers as a child. In his Perfect Christmas Collection, he offers candles with four wonderful fragrances that evoke the best of the season’s memories past and present—Spice, Tree, Winter and Frosted Cranberry.

These sophisticated fragrances recall crackling fires, the sweet smell of cinnamon, the essence of rich Douglas fir and orange pomanders. And this year, there is the addition of Evergreen, a blend of fresh green fir balsam with sparkling mint, cool pine and spicy clove, with a smoky touch of white birch and dark woods.

To heighten the whimsical holiday cheer, Harry Slatkin has created festive figurals candles in classic holiday designs including penguins, polar bears and frosted snowmen...truly a simple way to add an element of holiday decor into any home interior. Besides the figural candle collection, there is a wide variety of holiday decor items that will also add a bit of holiday magic to your home. A new, festive, pierced Holiday Glow Collection features richly glazed metallic tealight holders and oil warmers that cast fun holiday patterns. The red, green and silver of the season shine through the intricate cutout patterns of each votive holder and oil warmer. As candlelight flickers from within, images of snowflakes and holly are reflected on all that surrounds.

Scented candles are the perfect way to spice up your holiday decorating ideas. Add them to your holiday table to entertain with a festive glow. Try nestling them amid holly or pine garland on your mantel or console table. For a magical holiday moment, arrange a collection of varying heights on a reflective surface and garnish with wreaths or silvery twigs.

Slatkin & Co. scented candles also make great holiday gifts—holiday celebs such as Elton John, the Duchess of York and Kristen Bell find Slatkin home fragrance to be a necessity for setting the atmosphere. They are also perfect for teachers, for the host of a holiday party or as the perfect stocking stuffer. The recipient will remember you for months to come! You can find the entire Slatkin & Co. holiday collection at all Bath & Body Works stores and at www.bathandbodyworks.com.