

NEWS

OF CARS

New Line Of Toy Cars Gets The Green Flag

(NAPSA)—Interest is revving up among youngsters five and up who imagine themselves as professional drivers of their favorite toy cars racing on a realistic toy car track. It's all happening because a new line of the quickest mini-vehicles ever has gotten the starting flag from its creator Irwin Toy.

World class auto companies such as General Motors, Ford and DaimlerChrysler are among the top auto makers in the new Blazin' Key Cars! line up. The line includes concept cars such as the Pontiac GTO, Cavalier Pro Stoc and Chevrolet SSR to an array of favorites, from popular muscle cars such as the '69 Camaro to the most current models of Chevrolet Corvettes, Ford Mustangs, Dodge Vipers, Chrysler PT Cruisers and Chrysler Prowlers in addition to models designed by Irwin Toy.

Each of the collectible pocket-sized mini vehicles, with their sturdy chassis, super wide racing wheels and awesomely distinctive styling, comes in a plastic see-thru case that attaches to a child's belt for easy carrying and impromptu races with friends. By simply inserting the special Blazin' Key Cars! realistic-looking custom car key into the back of the mini-vehicle and squeezing the key's pad, a child creates 72 joules of energy to spring the car forward. Batteries are not required.

START YOUR ENGINES—Simply inserting a key into the back of the mini-vehicle and squeezing the key's pad, a child creates enough energy to propel the car forward.

Irwin Toy, the mini-car line's creator, is celebrating its 75th anniversary. More information is available at www.irwintoy.com.