

Hot Tips

On-The-Go Sun Protection

(NAPSA)—You can give sunburn the brush-off in a delightful new way.

That's because you can now brush on your sun protection, so you don't have to worry about it messing up your makeup, getting in your eyes or making your hands greasy.

Here's a bright idea: A mineral-based sun protection powder you can brush on.

You need both UVA and UVB protection every day, no matter the weather or the season.

You can get that at any time from a mineral-based powder sunscreen with SPF 30. Sweat and water resistant, it protects against broad-spectrum rays with zinc oxide and titanium dioxide, while flower oils and extracts from green tea, safflower, chamomile and honeysuckle soothe and replenish skin.

The sunscreen offers on-the-go invisible protection for the whole family, making it ideal for all your everyday activities—tennis, golf, walking, cycling and more. You can take it everywhere for nearly effortless sun protection whenever you need it. Contend no more with messy, greasy lotions, sticks and sprays. Brush On Block comes in a patent-pending, self-dispensing brush.

Learn more at www.brushonblock.com.