

Paying For Repairs

(NAPSA)—The next time you need to fix your car, you'll be better able to find the best price if you follow these four easy tips:

1. Get multiple repair quotes.

For the more expensive maintenance and repairs, it can pay to call around to find the best price.

2. Look for exclusive offers and discounts from dealers and independent service shops.

You don't have to find yourself in a fix financially just because your car needs to be fixed.

3. Read customer reviews. A service shop with good prices but bad reviews may not be the best choice.

4. Look up repair estimates for the area on your smartphone using free apps such as myCarfax.com.
