

Gift Ideas

“Thinking Of You” And Birthday Cards, Gifts Now Easier To Send Online

(NAPS)—You’re thinking of a loved one. You’re thinking of a card. Whether it’s a special occasion, or just for fun, you can select a card online and attach a gift—all at the same time on the Internet.

Online greeting card service BlueMountain.com established an online service that lets visitors attach gifts from online shops to its animated greeting cards at www.bluemountain.com.

Visitors can now choose gifts from a wide range of familiar online stores including DisneyStore.com, marthastewart.com and MrsFields.com and attach them to personalized online greeting cards.

With thousands of online cards to choose from, visitors can create and send greetings online by including a personal message and then choosing ways to further customize their greeting. Visitors can select and purchase a gift to attach to the online greeting cards, as well as, add voice messages, videos and photos.

The online greeting card and gift notification is delivered to the recipient’s e-mail address. The recipient opens the online greeting card, receives the message and a link to information about the gift that is in the mail for delivery.

At BlueMountain.com, there’s always an online greeting card and gift combination perfect for everyone. From chocolates and cookies to flowers and fun Disney gifts, BlueMountain.com helps you tell family and friends just how special they are.

It's almost that easy—sending a gift and attaching a card through an online service.

Even if you can't decide what to send, but still want to send a gift, you can send an online card with a gift certificate from a list of online shops.

BlueMountain.com is a division of Excite@Home, which provides the popular Internet portal www.excite.com.