

TIPS ON TRIPS

User-Friendly Vacation Planning Web Site

(NAPSA)—Orlando's official Web site—Orlandoinfo.com—now features improved navigation tools and more extensive information for those planning an Orlando vacation, including tips for traveling with children, navigating attractions and saving time and money.

By accessing a popular travel Web site, you could win an Orlando family vacation.

It also features new e-commerce options where visitors can take advantage of discount attraction and culture venue tickets; great savings on hotel rooms and packages; and rental car and airfare reservations.

As an added incentive, the millionth person to access Orlando info.com will win an "Ultimate Orlando Family Vacation," including round-trip airfare for four on AirTran Airways, a seven-night stay at the Radisson Barcelo Hotel Orlando and $1,500 to be used at Orlando's Official Visitor Center.

For a free Orlando vacation planning kit, call 1-800-551-0181. Vacationers arranging a trip to Orlando can also call 407-363-5872 to speak with an Official Travel Counselor who will provide vacation-planning information from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. EST every day of the year except December 25.
