Women's Murder Club

(NAPSA)—It's no mystery that a wildly popular literary series has inspired an equally engrossing crime-solving game.

Best-selling author James Patterson has added a dimension to his "Women's Murder Club" series with "Women's Murder Club: Games of Passion" for the Nintendo DS™ and DSi™. With story-driven gameplay and thought-provoking minigames, the game lets players immerse themselves in an original Patterson mystery.

The clues are everywhere. A new exciting game lets players solve the crimes of passion found in a popular series of novels. ®

In "Women's Murder Club: Games of Passion," players step into the investigative shoes of the Women's Murder Club members Lindsay, Claire and Cindy, while looking at a string of seemingly unrelated murders as they unfold. The game offers the perfect mix of hidden-object and puzzle gameplay that brings players into the book's universe as they examine locations for clues and interrogate witnesses and suspects alike. Better still, fans can create their own mystery thanks to a cool Nintendo DSi™ exclusive game feature.

The game is rated T for Teen and can be found nationwide.
