

TIPS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Wood Floors Can Look Fresh

(NAPSA)—Hardwood floors can add style and value—if you can keep scuffs and scratches from dulling the surface. Fortunately, a hardwood floor reviver can breathe new life into a lackluster floor.

Stronger and more durable than polish, it's a topcoat that quickly provides a layer of protection to any unwaxed, polyurethane-finished floor. To restore the look and luster of wood floors without refinishing, follow these quick and simple steps:

Lackluster hardwood floors needn't go against your grain—there is a quick way to revive them.

- Sweep or vacuum to remove loose debris.
- Remove dirt and grease with Minwax Hardwood Floor Cleaner.
- Using a synthetic applicator pad, apply a thin layer of Minwax Reviver and let dry for two hours.
- Reapply every three to six months.
- Place felt or protector pads on furniture legs.
- Put mats or area rugs in entryways and high-traffic areas.
- Keep pets' nails trimmed.
- Perform regular cleaning and maintenance.
