Catherine Zeta-Jones And George Clooney Win Best Hairstyles

(NAPSA)—America praises “The Legend of Zorro” star Catherine Zeta-Jones and eternal “Sexiest Man Alive” George Clooney as we take a look at 2005 in the 12th annual Best Tressed® Survey. The survey, conducted by Sally Beauty and Harris Interactive Inc., asked people to cast a vote on best and worst Hollywood hairstyles from the past year, as they gear up for the upcoming awards season.

Though Americans awarded Catherine Zeta-Jones and George Clooney for their luxurious locks, they may be more attentive in watching the red carpets for new mom Britney Spears and Donald Trump. The survey denounces these stars for more than one bad hair day in 2005.

While voting on celebrity best and worst hairstyles, this year’s survey participants were also asked about their own styling habits:

- 45 percent of Americans change their hairstyle less than once every five years.

- Americans cannot live without product when styling their hair, naming hairspray and styling gel as their top two necessities.

- 31 percent of Americans visit a hair salon every five weeks or more often.

- A cut or trim is the most popular reason to visit the beauty salon on a regular basis, with highlights or lowlights and coloring coming in second.
