Zooming Back To School In Style

(NAPSA)—Many kids may whistle a happier tune this year when going back to school. That's because favorite Looney Tunes friends make it easier for a child to feel good about being unique.

These tried-and-true cartoon pals are considered cool for school—and can be a fun way for kids to express their individuality.

Especially for youngsters who are going to a new school, legendary cartoon characters—such as Bugs Bunny, Daffy Duck, Tweety and Taz—offer a friendly form of companionship and self-expression.

Children can select school supplies such as backpacks, pencils, notebooks, lunch boxes and more that feature some of their most beloved characters. Many children find that taking their favorite animated friends to school with them allows them to greet each day with confidence.
